REINVENTING THE STATELY HOME

A MODERN DAY SALON

Described by The Times as "one of the finest homes in England," Fawley Court was designed by Sir Christopher Wren in 1684, with each room styled by a leading architect of the day, including James Wyatt and Grinling Gibbons.

Its 75 acre grounds which have sweeping views of the Chilterns and the river Thames as it meanders past Henley-on-Thames were landscaped by Capability Brown.

Just minutes from Heathrow and a short drive from Central London, it is an enchanting estate that combines a unique blend of classical form and beauty with alternative modern-day art grounds and interiors.

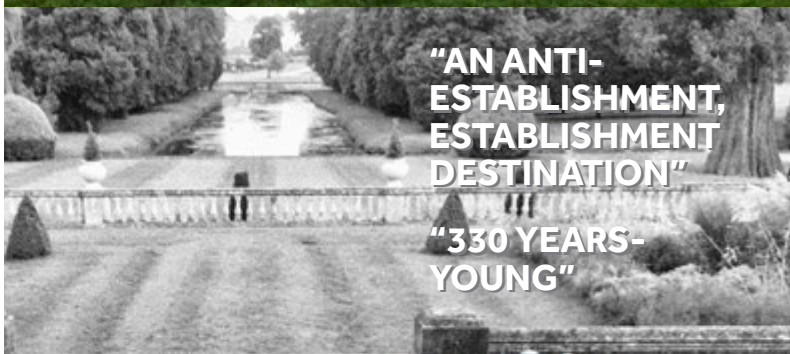

Today it is a private home reinventing itself to become a salon to bring meaning and inspiration to a global audience through the activities and functions to be hosted within its walls and grounds.

Fawley Court wants to completely and definitively reinvent the English stately home. It is reviving the concept of the 19th Century salon and make it relevant to a 21st Century audience.

AESTHETE

FAWLEY COURT WAS BOUGHT 8 YEARS AGO BY AIDA DELLAL. SINCE THEN IT HAS BEEN EXTENSIVELY AND METICULOUSLY RENOVATED AND REFURBISHED BY BRINGING BACK ITS GLORIOUS ARCHITECTURAL PAST WHILE BLENDING IT WITH CONTEMPORARY INTERIORS.

SALONNIERE

Today as a private home it is opening its doors to become a platform for change through exchange. Aida Dellal wants to leave a lasting legacy at Fawley Court.

It is all the vision, a modern day salonnière and art collector - an aesthete who happily mixes, matches and marries the classical and the modern. 'Classic or Contemporary; Why Choose?' is one of her mottos.

ART

INNOVATIVE, IMAGINATIVE, FRESH AND SURPRISING, FAWLEY COURT HAS BECOME A PLACE WHERE THE BEST OF ENGLISH HOSPITALITY EMBRACES ESTABLISHED AND PROMISING ARTISTS.

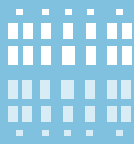

AN ENCHANTING DESTINATION TO INSPIRE CREATIVITY BY HOSTING LEADING ARTISTS, ARCHITECTS, WRITERS, POETS AND FILMMAKERS - SHOWCASING THEIR PAINTINGS, SCULPTURES, WRITINGS AND FILMS ON ITS GROUNDS.
